

Private Community

We want to extend an invitation to all members of The Yavapai Digital Arts & Photo Club to join us with our private community within Google+.

If you think Google+ is just another social site, you are in for a big surprise. What has been created is, put simply, a phenomenal tool for human communication, and much more. But it takes you to experience it, embrace it and 'get it' before this realization really comes. Our members post interesting, thought provoking posts on photography related subjects, such as Lightroom, Photoshop, Lighting, Exposure, and other related topics, and tips. We also post club information, monthly assignments, meeting times and dates, plus 'meet-ups' and other aspects and information relating to the club.

As a member of our Google+ Community, you have the option of posting interesting information you find, or you can just read the posts from other club members. It's up to you how involved you wish to be. This is a great club communication and information sharing tool, and your participation makes it wider and broader in scope, and much more interesting. Only club members can access the community.

Access to our private community is by invitation only. The only requirement to join our private community is to have a personal Google+ account, which is FREE, and be a current club member in good standing.

INTERESTED? All you have to do is send an email requesting to join. In turn you will receive an email invitation with instructions.
